WELCOME TO LEICESTER COMEDY FESTIVAL 2023!

Hello and welcome to Leicester Comedy Festival 2023! It's brilliant to be back, presenting an incredible programme of shows and events designed to tickle your funny bone. Take a look through the pages of this brochure and start planning your visit.

As you will probably know, this year is the 30th anniversary of the festival. A student project which frankly got a bit out of hand.... Over the years we have grown and developed the event, and it remains one of the biggest independent festivals in the UK and the biggest comedy festival in Europe. The support we continue to receive from members of the public, comedians, producers & agents, promoters & venues, sponsors & partners, as well as lots of other people who continue to help, is just amazing and we are incredibly proud of the festival community which exists around the core team.

Our key aims remain the same as they ever were: to celebrate British comedy, and support new and emerging talent.

I'm delighted that for 2023 we will welcome hundreds of comedians to venues across Leicester & Leicestershire. Acts such as Stewart Lee, Nish Kumar, Sophie Duker, Hal Cruttenden, Fern Brady, Danny Baker, Jimeoin, Seann Walsh, Aaron Twitchen, Eshaan Akbar, Arthur Smith, Glenn Wool, Jason Byrne, Nabil Abdulrashid, Mrs Barbara Nice, Olga Koch will all be performing alongside many, many more.

I'm especially thrilled about the events we produce each year, which have become firm favourites. Returning this year will be Leicester Mercury Comedian of the Year Competition, the 10th anniversary of The UK Pun Championships, Circuit Breakers, Silver Stand Up, Comedy Heaven and our Beyond A Joke discussion programme. Our UK Kids' Comedy Festival is also back, marking its 5th anniversary, and you can check out the programme by visiting www.ukkidscomedyfestival.co.uk

We've pulled together a few ultra special events to help mark the 30th year. There will be some exhibitions of past festivals, a special online documentary about the history of the festival (featuring festival friends including Arthur Smith & Jo Brand), a lunchtime 30th Anniversary Celebration and also a slightly ridiculous 30 Acts for £30 show where you will get the chance to see some of our friends perform in a mega long comedy show.

It gives me huge pleasure that we have announced Stewart Lee, Jo Brand, Eshaan Akbar and Sikisa, who will be joining Founding Patron

Grab your tickets online (via www.comedy-festival.co.uk) or call the ticketing team on 0116 456 6812.

Tony Slattery, as patrons for this festival and in the future. Their support is very much appreciated.

Do continue to support those acts you may not have heard of yet. The festival has developed a really strong reputation as being a supportive and friendly place for comedians to try out their material so please help us continue this. Go and see some of your favourites but also take a punt and go and see acts you don't yet know. Over the years many of these "unknown" acts have gone on to become massive so you never know who you will be seeing perform in huge venues in years to come.

From the very beginning we have worked with a number of organisations who support the festival and I'm delighted that Leicester City Council and De Montfort University are once again our main partners. We are also supported by a network of smaller, and more local businesses, as well as our community of comedians, promoters and venues. If you get a chance to support any of these, and say "thank you" to them for continuing to support us, please do; I know they would genuinely appreciate it.

Leicester Comedy Festival is produced by registered charity Big Difference and we increasingly rely on donations to support the festival and receive these from a number of organisations and individuals. If you can, please consider making a donation (however small) when you buy your tickets. 100% of all the ticket money goes to the performers, venues and promoters so your donations will really help support future festivals.

You possibly know that Leicester Comedy Festival 2023 will be my last. After 30 years I have made the really difficult decision to hand over the microphone and see if I can do anything else with my life. I've had an absolute blast over the years and consider myself to have been really privileged to have had the opportunity to work with such a brilliant bunch of people to pull this thing together each February. Thank you to everyone who is part of our community, and I'm looking forward to seeing Leicester Comedy Festival continue to grow and develop in future years.

I hope you enjoy the festival. It's going to be a hell of a party.

Thanks so much. Stay safe, smile and enjoy

WELCOME FROM OUR CEO

It's my absolute pleasure to welcome you to Leicester Comedy Festival 2023 and to invite you to join us for our 30th anniversary celebrations. It's such an achievement to have reached this landmark year and a testament to the talent, ingenuity, and determination of the festival team over so many years, not least to our Founder Geoff Rowe, who is stepping down from his role in March after creating and leading the festival over the last three decades.

We would like to say a huge thank you to all those organisations and individuals that have supported us over the years; our Main Partners, Leicester City Council and De Montfort University, our many Funders, Sponsors and Business Partners Club members, our individual supporters, all the comedians, promoters and venues who have taken part over the past 30 years and our volunteers, who give so much of their time and energy, and to you, our audiences.

You may already be aware that Big Difference is the registered charity that produces Leicester Comedy Festival. As a charity our mission is to improve people's lives through comedy and laughter, and we work year-round to deliver festivals, cultural events and projects with communities in Leicester and beyond.

Every time you buy a ticket for a show, make a donation or engage with the festivals, you are supporting not only Leicester Comedy Festival, ensuring that this brilliant cultural event continues to thrive into the next thirty years, but you are also supporting new and emerging comedians and the work with communities young and old that Big Difference delivers year-round. We really couldn't do any of our work without you and we are so grateful for all your support.

We are so excited to reveal our 2023 programme and to welcome you to this very special anniversary of Leicester Comedy Festival. We hope you find many shows and events to make you smile and laugh out loud, and we really look forward to welcoming you to our birthday festivities in February.

A JOURNEY TO CELEBRATE

It was shortly after coming to the city as Deputy Director of Recreation and Arts that a young man asked to see me about the city council funding a comedy festival in the city. I was pleased that we decided to do so, as this marked the start of a remarkable journey that we now celebrate. One person remains the constant in that journey, Geoff Rowe.

My relationship with Geoff and the comedy festival took on a new dimension when ten years ago I became the chair of the Big Difference trustees and had the pleasure of working closely with Geoff over the last decade.

Thirty years is a long time to be the driver and motivator of a festival that has gone well beyond a local community initiative to being recognised as a national and even international event. Geoff has played a central role in putting Leicester on the map and from his initial idea many other festivals have been created celebrating the vibrancy of Leicester's cultural life for which he has been a role model. The city and the world of comedy owes Geoff a huge round of applause as he leaves the stage for the last time.

Celebrating thirty years of comedy festivals gives us all a great opportunity to recognise not just Geoff's achievements but the achievements of everyone involved in the festival over that time but it is also important that we recognise that this is also the beginning of the future.

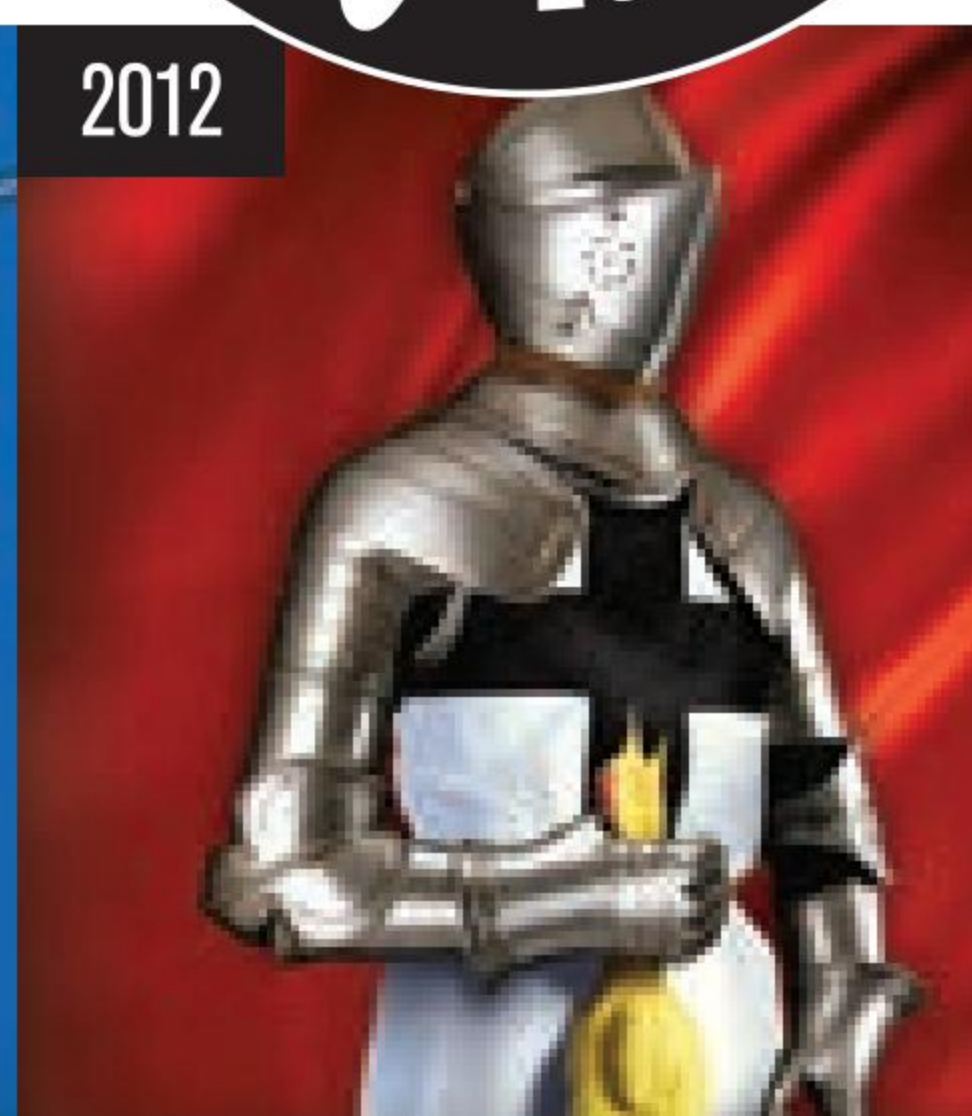

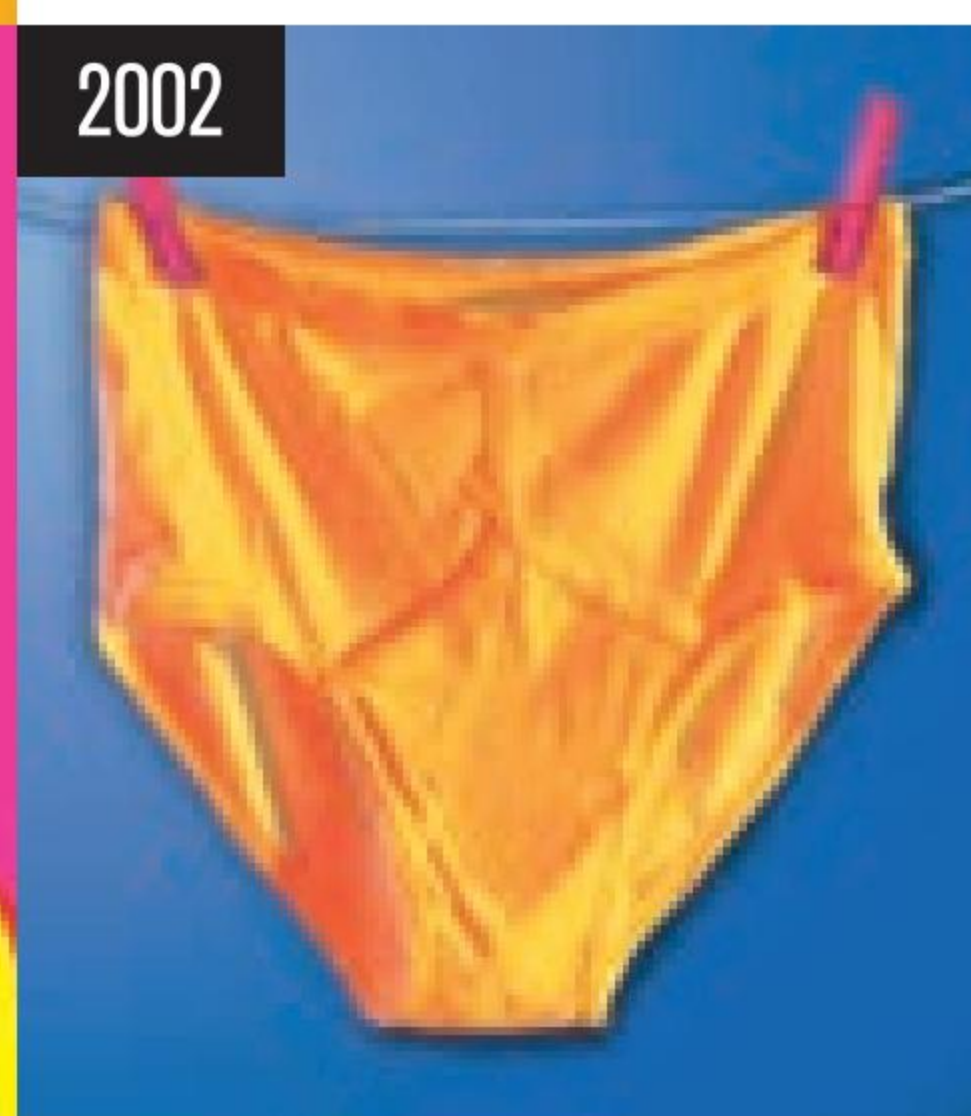

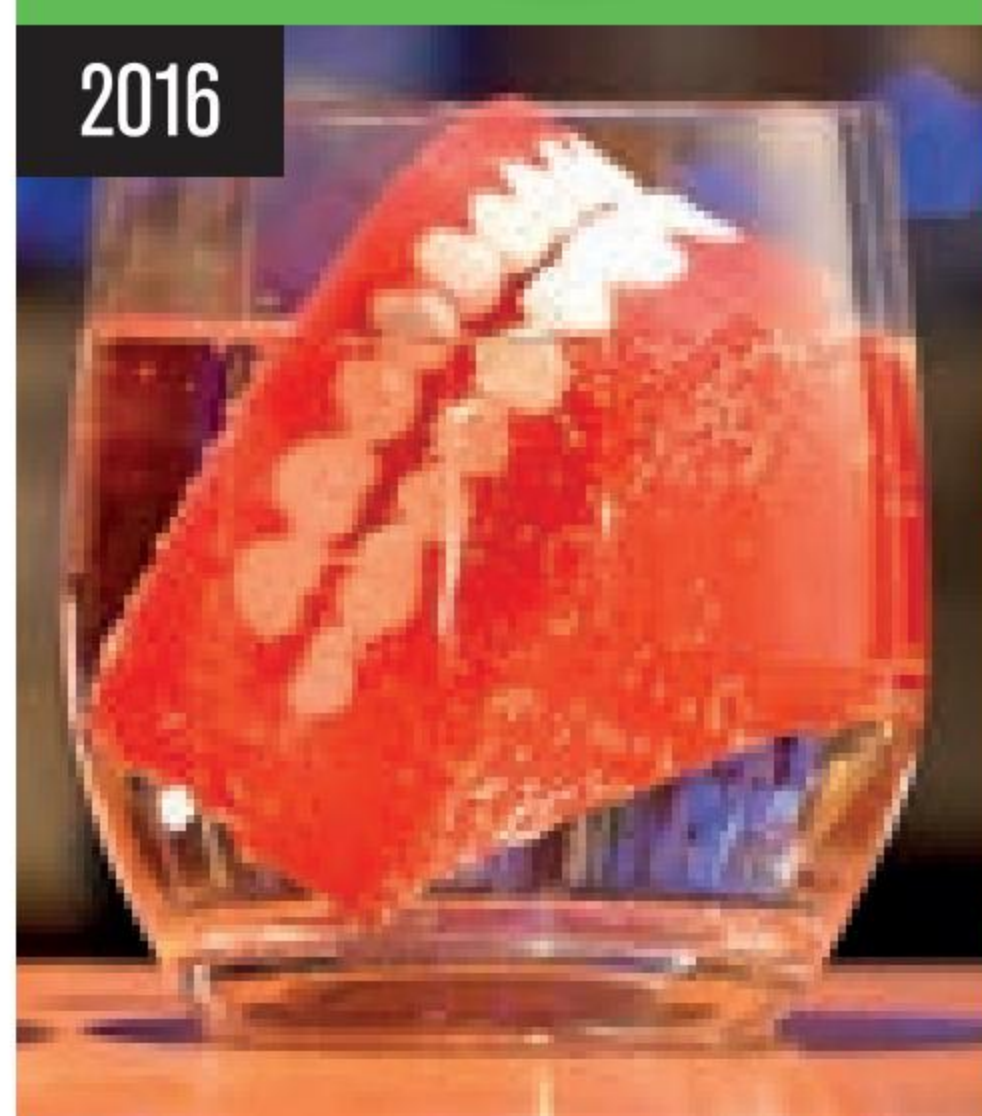

I want to take this opportunity to thank everyone, Leicester City Council for staying the course, De Montfort University for their continued support, all our business partners and sponsors, our staff team led by Laura Arends and the many volunteers without whom we cannot deliver the festivals and our board of trustees.

But I too have decided it's time to stand down and hand the baton to our new Chair of Trustees, Jonathan Kerry, who will ably take us forward into a new era of more exciting festivals supported by our new venue The Big Difference. Change is never easy but only through change can new things grow and prosper, so in the words of a well-known comedy double act...

it's good night from me and it's good night from him.

FESTIVAL INFORMATION

FESTIVAL TICKET OFFICE: 0116 456 6812

HOW TO BOOK TICKETS:

For the past few years, we have been moving to paperless tickets. Most of our tickets are available as e-tickets sent direct to you by email.

Tickets for all festival shows are available from our festival box office at www.comedy-festival.co.uk. If you prefer to book over the phone, please give the helpful ticketing team a call on 0116 456 6812.

The ticket office will be open for telephone sales Monday – Friday from 10am-6pm. During the main festival dates, the phone line will also be staffed Saturdays (10am-6pm) and Sundays (midday-4pm).

Tickets may also be available to purchase direct from the venue/promoter. Details are listed on pages 158-161.

BOOKING FEES

We pass 100% of ticket income on to our venues, acts and promoters. We have worked hard to keep booking fees as low as possible, working with our ticketing partner Fringe Box Office. In 2023 there is an £1 booking fee charged on all tickets and a maximum booking charge of £5 per transaction. If you have any feedback on our centralised ticket office, do let us know by emailing info@comedy-festival.co.uk

If you buy tickets from anywhere else, the booking fees and arrangements may be different so please check the terms and conditions when purchasing tickets.

Leicester Comedy Festival is produced by Big Difference Company, a registered charity (1135167).

If you want to contact the show promoter directly about tickets, contact details can be found on 158-161.

SPECIAL OFFERS

There will be various special offers promoted leading up to, and during, the festival. These are often available via Twitter or Facebook or through our newsletter. For up-to-date news about the festival, sign up to the newsletter via our website www.comedy-festival.co.uk

PRICES

Prices for events are contained in this brochure; full price tickets are shown and relevant concession/discounted prices are shown in brackets. Discounts vary with different events, so check with the ticket office when booking.

TIMES

Start times indicate the time the performance will start; the venue may open before this, and you are advised to check opening times when booking tickets. We have also tried to suggest finish times (so you can enjoy more than one event in a day). It is difficult to guarantee finish times as comedy shows do sometimes overrun but we hope the estimates are useful.

ACCOMMODATION

If you're coming from out of town, there are several hotels in Leicester where you can stay and catch some laughs late into the night. Our official Festival hotels are The Gresham, Hotel Brooklyn, The Belmont Hotel and St. Martins Lodge. You can find more information about deals and how to book on our website and on pages 12 and 13 of the brochure.

GET THERE EARLY!

Some of the venues have fixed seating and you'll get issued with a seat number when you buy your ticket. Other venues allocate seats on a first come, first served basis so there are occasionally queues of people waiting to get in to make sure they get the "best" seats. We've indicated which option is relevant next to each event. If the seating is unreserved, and you turn up late, you might be sat/stood at the back of the room.

ACCESS

All the promoters and venues that put on events try and ensure that everyone is able to attend Festival events and have a comfortable time when they get there. We have produced a guide to visiting our venues for people with disabilities and this can be downloaded from our website or by contacting our main festival office. For 2023 we are also working to make sure everyone has a good time at the festival, including those who might have poor mental health. Details are included on the access guide. If you wish to speak to an individual venue about access requirements, you will find their contact details on pages 158-161.

VOLUNTEERS

Are you interested in going behind the scenes and experiencing the festival in a different way? Join our team and help make 2023 truly marvellous! We have loads of opportunities for people to volunteer and gain valuable experience at one of the largest festivals of its kind in Europe. For more information email volunteers@bigdifferencecompany.co.uk

DIRECTIONS

We've included basic maps (pages 158-161) which show the location of Festival venues. We have tried to include postcodes for as many venues as possible so you can search online or type it into your Sat Nav.

COMMENTS

We work with over 250 promoters who take the responsibility for organising the individual events. We co-ordinate the programme and provide overall marketing and publicity. This means that we do pass on your praise, comments and criticism to the relevant promoter or organiser of the event. We are keen to know what you think of events, venues, marketing, workshops and everything that takes place as part of the festival. Our contact details can be found on page 162 so please do get in touch!

WATCH OUT FOR:

LEICESTER FRIDGE
One of our overall aims is to support new and emerging talent and one way we do this is via our partnership with Leicester Fridge. The Fridge is a loose collective of comedians based locally and they are back for another brilliant year. Please support them if you can.

BEYOND A JOKE SEMINARS
Getting to the heart of today's issues, is our topical seminar series: Beyond a Joke. A series of talks, discussions and seminars aimed at people who want to delve a little deeper into issues linked to contemporary society and comedy. Full details in the listings.

THE BIG WEEKEND
The BIG Weekends are a great way to experience a taste of the main festival in the county. We're delighted to be taking the BIG Weekends to the Harborough District this year, thanks to our friends at Harborough District Council and their partners. Keep an eye on our website for the latest information about shows which might be near you.

THE UK KIDS' COMEDY FESTIVAL
This year The UK Kids' Comedy Festival celebrates its fifth birthday. Packed with shows and events aimed at children, young people and their families, there will be a mix of big names in kids comedy including Michael Rosen, Marcel Lucont, Louie Stowell, Wifi Wars, and Shelf, as well as special events such as Loving Laughing - where we will present the award for the Funniest School in Leicestershire. For more information about The UK Kids' Comedy Festival visit our website www.ukkidscomedyfestival.co.uk

LAUGH ACADEMY: HALF TERM COMEDY SCHOOL
We are bringing back our Half Term Comedy School which is an opportunity for young people to learn stand-up comedy and comedy performance skills. This year the school, which takes place over half term, will be hosted in partnership with Curve Theatre – full details are in the listings.

FREE SHOWS
We have a host of free shows every day of the festival, as well as shows for as little as £5. Many free shows are ticketed so get your tickets (booking fees apply) in advance to guarantee entry. There are also a range of shows which are Pay What You Want (PWYW) where comedians will collect money at the end of their shows; please give generously!

SPECIAL OFFERS

There will be various special offers promoted leading up to, and during, the festival. These are often available via twitter or facebook or sign up to our newsletter which is the best way to get the latest festival news. A BEDSIT ABOVE A BOOKIE'S, 6 TEASPOONS AND A ROASTING TIN - A SOLO SHOW TOLD BY TWO PEOPLE

WORLD PREMIERE

This is a solo show: A show about going solo. When you met your life partner in maths, how do you navigate around dating apps, lockdown and living alone for the first time? From the trials and tribulations of starting a new life in your 40s to becoming obsessed with a daytime TV show, this show explores life as it's lived by two middle aged singletons, thrust into a world they know nothing about. Joke heavy storytelling with a twist in the tale

BETHANY BLACK: ALWAYS BET ON BETH

In 2019 Beth faced turning 40 head on and moved to a small village just outside the town she grew up in. She imagined she'd be able to get away from it all, but in today's hyper connected age that was more difficult than she imagined... A queer story of rural living, conspiracies, an unfortunate medical condition and PC building. As seen in Cucumber, Banana, Tofu (C4), Doctor Who (BBC). Joe.co.uk comedy award 2020.

BEYOND A JOKE: WHO CARES?

Leicester Comedy Festival has hosted a series of discussions and debates over many years. The Beyond A Joke Series has become a key part of the overall programme but who really cares about these discussions? Should organisers keep offering opportunities for people to delve a little deeper into topics linked to contemporary comedy? Join the panel, including Kate Copstick, Simon Minty, Kate Fox, Laura Arends and Sharon Lockyer, for this discussion.

CLEMENTINE

From shipwrecks to guillotines, tragedy has plagued Lady Clementine's love life from day one. When her latest beau, Sir Bradley, goes missing, she sets off on a quest to solve the mystery of her misfortune. Guided by the stars, she soon finds out she's been searching for love in all the wrong places. Set roughly "in the past", expect dashing dandies, sickly sisters and many, MANY letters. Bridgerton meets the Mighty Boosh.

DO YOU MIND IF I LAUGH?

Why is it that the type of space we're in influences how we behave? Comedy Clubs, pubs and theatre's work great for comedy, but as soon as you change the setting to an Art Gallery, online or even an Ice Rink, people's perceptions change. In this panel discussion chaired by Cultural Comedy Tour's Edy Hurst explores why certain places you feel like you need permission to laugh and others you don't.

F* JANUARY: THE HOPELESS HUSTLE

This year will be 'my year'. I despise morons that say that but I can't lie, in January of 2022 I was one of those morons. That was until I found myself weeping on a 5* hotel toilet having learnt I was being dropped by my agent. F January: The Hopeless Hustle explores the life and validation that we all seem to be seeking, whether it be through 'The Gram' or performing in dusty backrooms of pubs. What we have to give... is it all worth it?

JENAN YOUNIS: A CONFLICT OF DISINTEREST

When Jenan was 13 she read a 2000-page Che Guevara biography and wanted to be just like him. Now the only thing she does have in common with him are her sideburns. BBC New Voices Winner, Jenan brings you a show about what it's like to revive what you stand for in a world of selective empathy and slacktivism with a cause that won't ever be "on trend" when you're a Middle Eastern minority rarer than an unfiltered Kardashian family photo.

LAME MISERABLES

Three thirty-something Midlands comics reflect on the cost of living... through their twenties. Watch Dave Flynn, Robyn Harvey and Lin Smith as they consider their failed attempts at self-improvement and successful attempts at self-destruction, then face the grim possibility that it may be too late to fix either. Definitely not a musical. Vive la destitution.

PAUL RICHARDS: MY FUNCTION BAND HELL

Paul Richards literally can't stop drumming; he's performed all over the world, from huge gigs in China to grotty working men's clubs, posh corporate gigs to the whole of the UK toilet circuit whilst eating more Ginsters slices than could be considered healthy. A warm storytelling comedy show about why it's often quite degrading to play drums at someone else's wedding. * (Scotsman).

A Rush of Laughter presents

PETE SELWOOD: UNINSPIRING

Pete Selwood (BBC3 Laugh Lessons, the Emily Attack Show) was born with one hand. Rather than become a Paralympian or do lots of charity work, he's opted for a simpler, happier life. He's completely 'uninspiring' - and he's ok with that. But since becoming a dad, he's had to reassess. Uninspiring is a gag-heavy show full of self-reflection and insight into a lesser-seen side of disability.

Peter Fleming presents

PETER FLEMING MEETS DOCTOR WHO!

Doctor Who is 60. In its life, the programme has encountered many problems. Most of them were the fault of retired children's TV pioneer Peter Fleming. Warped telly nostalgia from award-winning character comedian and Blue Peter badge winner Tom Burgess (as seen on BBC Two and heard on BBC Radio 4). * 'A comic love letter to a lost world of Reithian values' Stewart Lee. SIMON MUNNERY: TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS

20 years ago, in Edinburgh, legendary comedian Simon Munnery was arrested for "being a German in a built-up area". It wasn't an early brush with 'cancel culture' but it did lead to a trial. For the first time Simon Munnery tells the tale of this trial, as well as his second court appearance last year, one that only came about after four years of a gruelling legal battle (or possibly an administrative backlog). Well, it worked for Lenny Bruce.

THE FUTURE OF THE LIVE COMEDY ASSOCIATION

The LCA was set up in 2020, in response to the Covid pandemic to help ensure the sector "survives and thrives in the face of Covid-19 and beyond". It had some significant successes, not least the #savelivecomedy campaign, but what is the future for the LCA post-pandemic? Does the sector need a membership body to help advocate for, and support, those working in live comedy. Join a panel who will discuss what the future might look like.

THOM BEE: PSYCHOCINEMATIC

Psychocinematic is a thinly veiled attempt for Thom to come to terms with his own volatile mental health and BPD. It smushes stand-up with a lifelong fixation on horror, yielding uplifting results that will make you howl with laughter, fondly cringe at the 00s, and slightly worry about Thom's well-being. A must-see for anyone who gets way too into movies and reads into their own mental health, which is all of us...right?

VITTORIO ANGELONE - TRANSLATIONS

Irish-Italian comedian Vittorio Angelone went to see a play at the National Theatre in London. He loved the play, still does, but was deeply disturbed (read: pissed off) by the reaction of the English audience. Join him as he tackles being Irish in England, identity, and the sad comedy shows that seem to win awards.* *Since writing this blurb Vittorio's (my) show got nominated for, but crucially did not win, an award. WILL DUGGAN: ICEBERG

Comedy's miserable, cheeky scamp is returning with his sellout Edinburgh 2022 show and the weight of the world across his shoulders and some burning questions in his soul. Primarily: why on earth is everyone not just constantly screaming in fury? He's going to figure it all out in front of you, while managing to be 'funny as f*ck' (Chortle) - indeed, 'effortlessly brutally funny'  (Joe.co.uk)

ACCESS GUIDE

We have produced an access guide to the festival, which can be downloaded from www.comedy-festival.co.uk/access or you can contact us via email at access@bigdifferencecompany.co.uk

The Access Guide provides information about physical access to the majority of our participating festival venues. For specific venue questions, please contact the venue direct. All venue contact details can be found at the back of this brochure.

To assist with your festival visit, you may also want to visit www.disabledgo.com which contains access details about Leicester City Centre and some of the venues.

WELLBEING

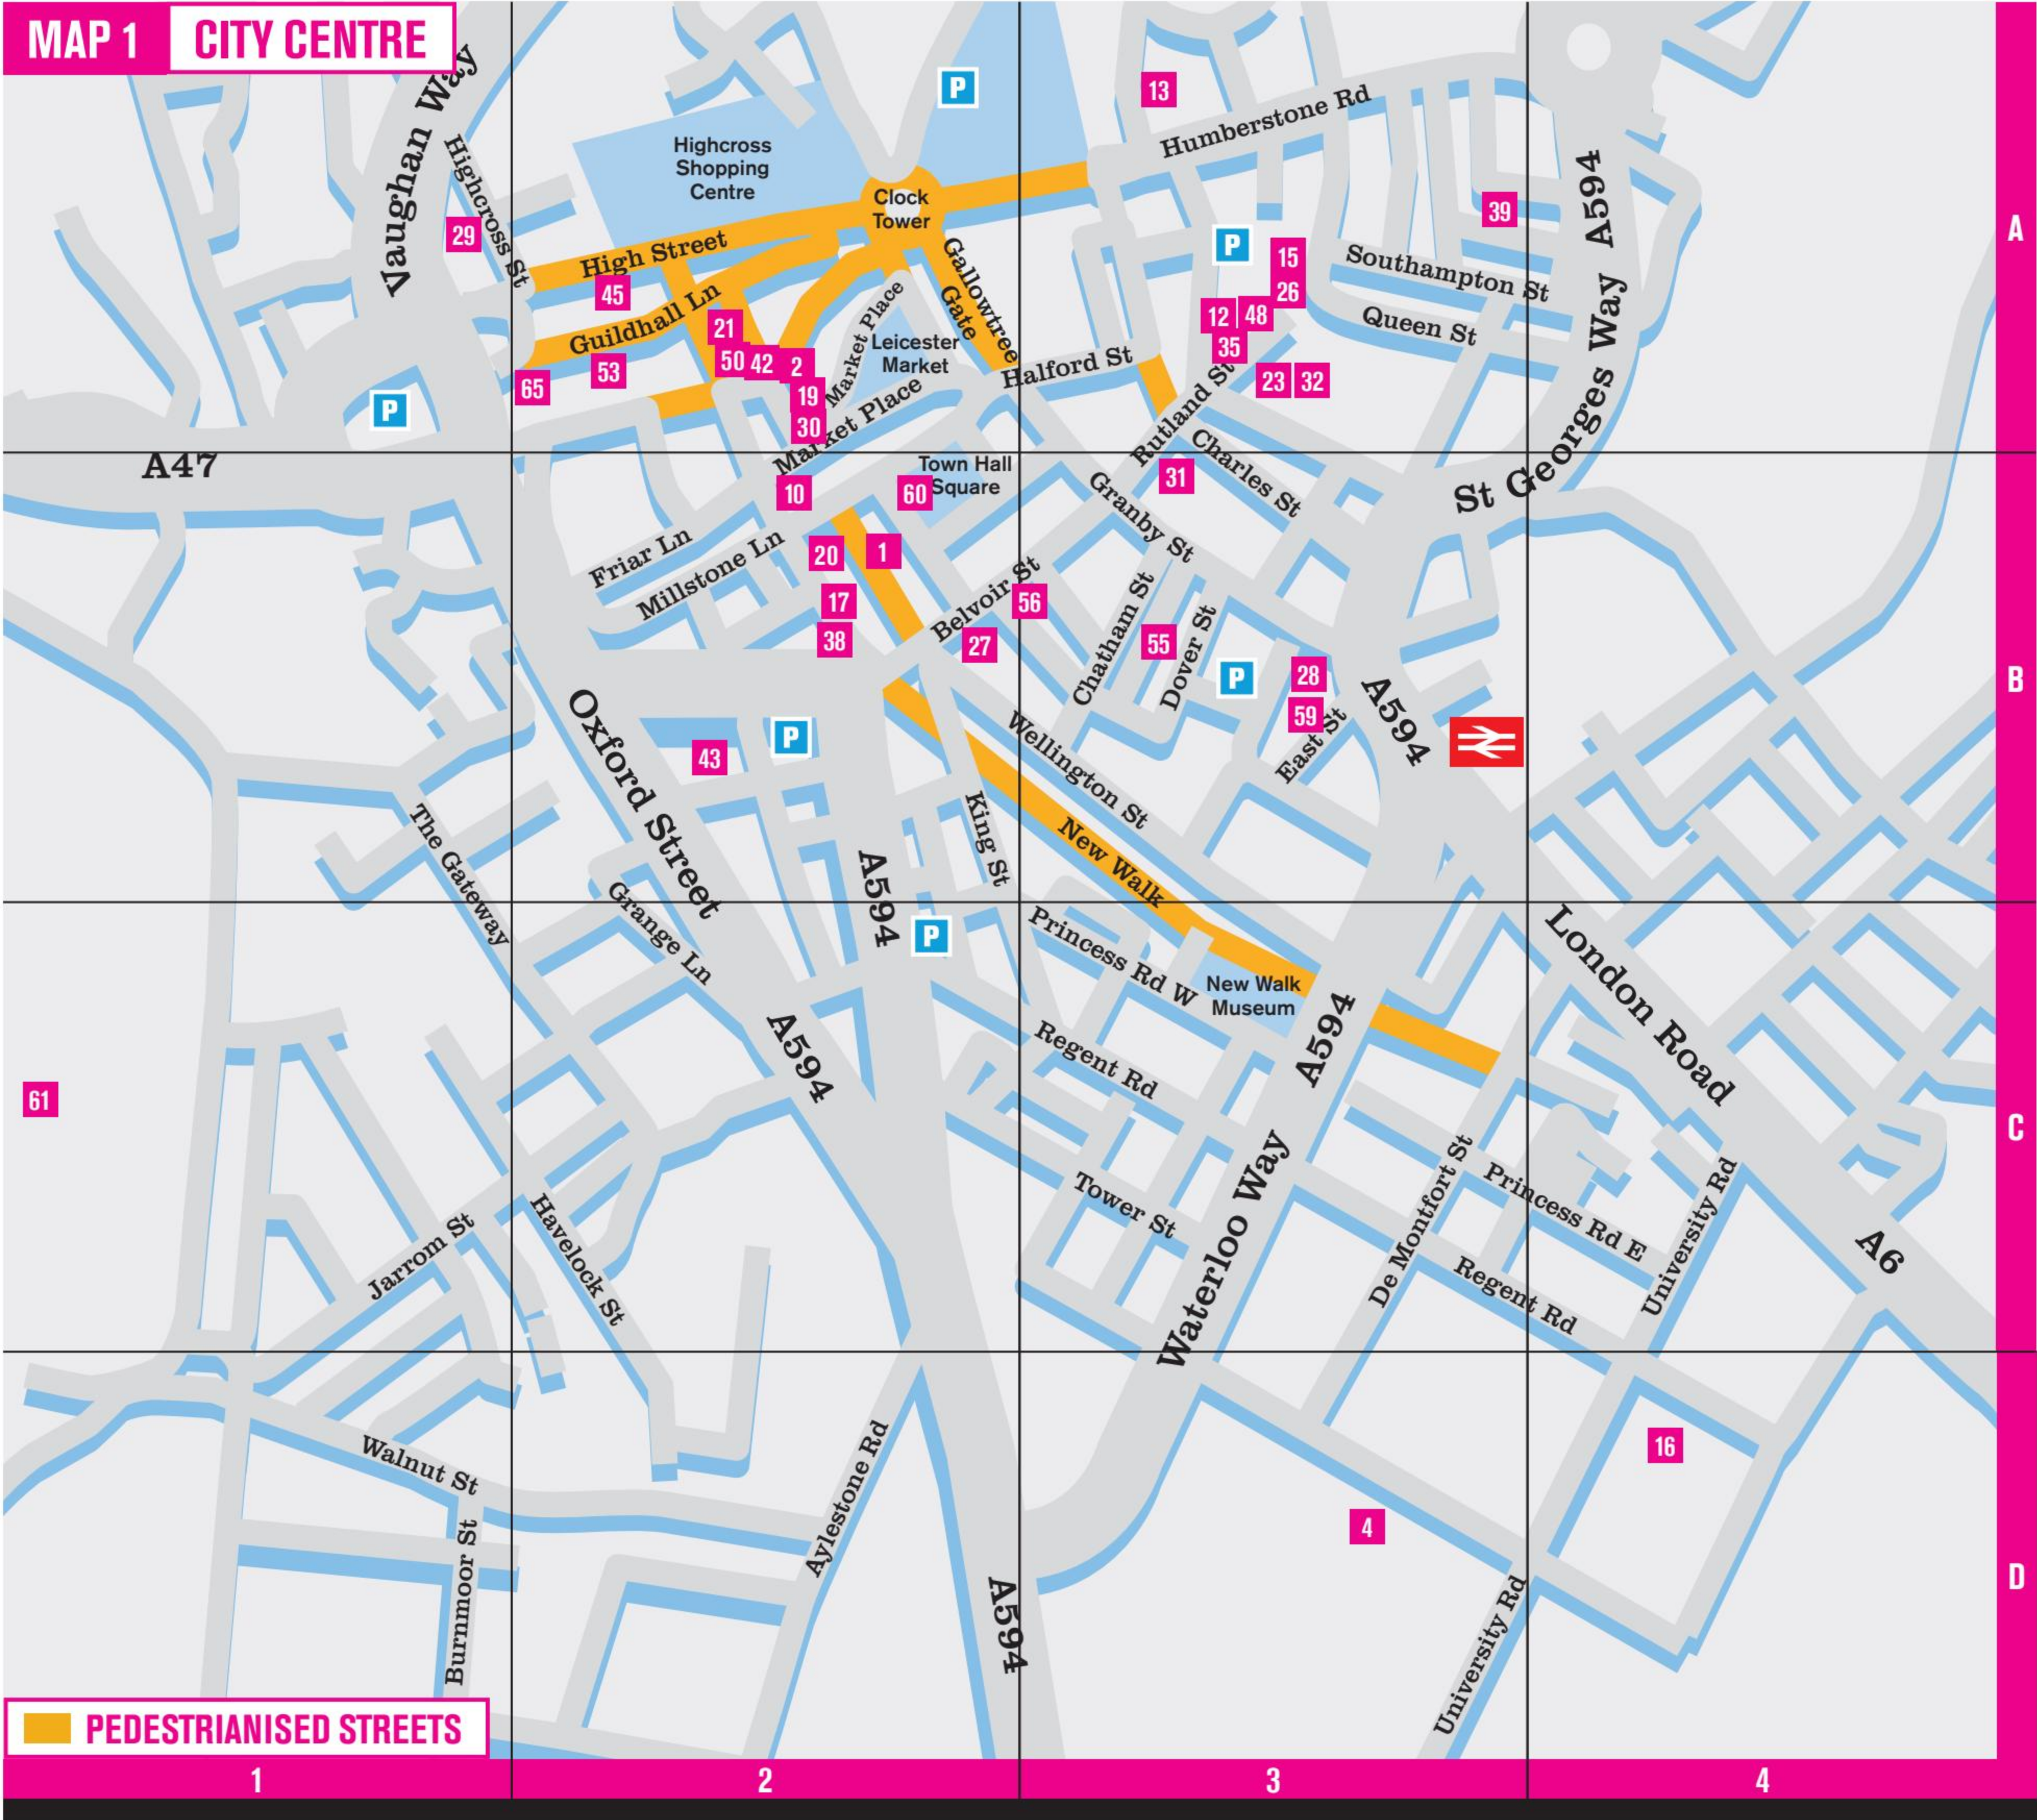

We have produced a Mental Health and Wellbeing toolkit, which can be downloaded from www.comedy-festival.co.uk/wellbeing or accessed via wellbeing@bigdifferencecompany.co.uk

This will provide a guide to ensure that the festival is accessible and supportive to those who may be experiencing a difficult time. It will also provide contact details of organisations which can provide Mental Health support.
